From the talk at the Hoffman House today, it appears a majority of the members of the Executive Committee believe that the campaign can be conducted more effectively from one place by a few men, with full powers and responsibilities.

MUST HUMP ITSELF.

MISSISSIPPI DEMOCRACY.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representative Humphreys (Dem.) of Mississippi came to town today, and made everybody's eyes bug out by calmly stating that if the Democratic party wants to win in Mississippi this year, it must get out and "hump itself." He believed that Mississippi will go Democratic, but he admitted that the Republicans down there are active. They have Congressional candidates in all districts for the first time in a dozen years or so, and are preparing to make a fight.

CHANDLER WANTS TO WIN.
WON'T BE PULLED OFF.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

DOVER (Del.) Aug. 9.—Dr. Joseph Chandler, when he was nominated for Governor of Delaware by the "regular" Republican convention today created a profound stir by taking the platform and declaring that he accepted the nomination under the sole consideration that he would enter the fight to the end and stay on the ticket until November.

"We would rather suffer honest defeat," he declared, "than be pulled off the ticket that somebody else might be substituted."

This was received with deafening cheers from the Dupont men, who had won a victory over the Higgins forces in nominating Chandler.

The regulars who composed today's convention are really outnumbered by the union, or Addicks, republicans, and when it is over they have made up a ticket that has always been with the understanding that a trace would be patched up later, and both Republican factions would agree to trade and substitute the nominees, making one ticket.

Many of the Dupont delegates, after the completion of the State ticket today, thinking they had won a victory against any alliance with Addicks or Addicks Republicans left for their homes.

The Higgins men, who are more conciliatory to the Addicks Republicans, and desire one State ticket, even at a sacrifice, after many of the delegates had left, got through a resolution empowering the State Central Committee to make any changes upon the ticket named today, which, in their judgment, is necessary to bring about the success of the whole Republican ticket in Delaware. The ticket was completed as follows:

Presidential electors—Thomas H. Saye of Newcastle, Manlove Hayes of Kent and Dr. William P. Orr of Sussex.

Governor—DR. JOSEPH H. CHANDLER.

Lieutenant-Governor—SAMUEL H. DERBY.

Congress—HORACE G. KNOWLES.

Attorney-General—ROBERT H. RICHARDS.

Insurance Commissioner—CHARLES MAULL.

Treasurer—THOMAS N. RAWLINS.

Auditor of Accounts—GEORGE H. DICK.

The platform endorses President Roosevelt, and demands the vigorous enforcement of Delaware laws against bribery. It is not considered possible that the Union Republicans will endorse the nomination of Mr. Chandler for Governor, although they may not object to Knowles for Congress or for Richards for Attorney-General.

BRYANITES HOSTILE.

Parker's Managers Alarmed by the Attitude of the Radical Element and the Numerous Defections Therefrom—Bolt of a Leader.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alarmed by the extremely hostile attitude of Bryan Democrats in this State, the Parker campaign managers may readjust their views as to the undesirability of letting Bryan speak in the East, and may beg him to come here and try to keep his friends in line for Parker, and Davis.

Unless something of the kind is done, a friend of Parker admitted last night, the fate of the Democratic national ticket is certain to be decided by wholesale defections from the radical element in the party. It is regarded as doubtful, if even Bryan's influence could be exerted successfully now to stop the stampede of his followers. A month hence, it assuredly would be too late.

This peril from wholesale Bryanite defections was one of the questions considered in the meeting of the National Executive Committee last Monday. Several plans were proposed, but none of them stood the test of discussion. The question is to be taken up again at an early day.

Meantime, signs of dissatisfaction with the ticket among Bryan Democrats multiply daily. Many of Bryan's followers say openly that they will vote for President Roosevelt rather than for a candidate who won his nomination by trickery. Others have announced their intention to support Watson.

City Judge Samuel Seabury, a leader among Bryan Democrats in this State, today issued a statement setting forth the reasons why he could not support Parker.

"The deception to which Parker and his friends resorted to secure the nomination and repudiation of compromised entered into in relation to the platform will, I believe, before the platform is over, be made perfectly apparent.

"When the facts are appreciated, they can easily be understood, being contempt and disgust. The compromise was controlled by the union of monopoly and pro-slavery elements. The Associated Press correspondent at Liao Yang points out the alarming character of this development, and fears that the example may prove contagious.

"The fact that Cleveland and others who deserved the party when it became Democratic in 1886 are not in control is sure guarantee that if they are entrusted to join the Japanese, it will be impossible to distinguish the Formosan and Manchurian Chinese. This revives the spectre of Chinese embroilment with the more remote possibility of foreign entanglements.

There is considerable anxiety regarding the presence of Gen. Yuan Shi Kai, Commander-in-chief of the Chinese forces, and Gen. Ma with strong forces in ascend the hill, and a small hill, but this position is untenable and the Japanese were doomed to retreat. They tried to retreat, but were almost wiped out by the Russian battery which had them in the rear.

A few of the Japanese succeeded in ascending the hill, and hid among the rocks. The Russians expected that the Japanese would be largely reinforced, and so did not remain.

The sappers decorated the position with wooden guns before they retired.

The Japanese reinforcements arrived in the morning and shelled the dummy battery fiercely before they discovered its character.

Although it now seems improbable that anything can prevent a Japanese attack at Liao Yang, in view of the persistence of heavy rains, the prospect of rains heavy enough to arrest military operations is not likely, however, as the time for the rainy season is now past.

There is an unconfirmed rumor that Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch is bringing large forces to Mukden to reinforce Gen. Kourapatkin. Gen. Linevitch's troops are stationed around Vladivostok, and it is doubtful if they could arrive at Liao Yang in time.

TRAVELERS AGAIN VICTIMS.

Mother and Three Children Killed at Chicago.

Seven More Bodies Recovered from Pueblo Wreck.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—A mother and her three little children were killed and a number of other persons seriously injured in a collision tonight in a western-bound Baltimore and Ohio local train and a Chicago and Erie freight train at the Brighton Park railroad crossing at Western avenue and West Thirty-ninth street. The collision followed a frantic effort on the part of the crossing flagman to change the course of the freight train, to the crew of which he had given the signal that was clear for them to back over the Baltimore and Ohio tracks.

The passenger train, which was approaching rapidly, was struck by the freight cars and two of the coaches were overturned. One of the freight cars crashed through the woodwork of one of the coaches, where the four who were killed were seated. They were a family of five, and C. E. Garretts, the father, was the only one who escaped with his life. Although taken from the wreck unconscious and suffering from broken bones and bruises, it is believed his injuries will not prove fatal. The mother and the three children were killed instantly.

Dead: MRS. C. C. SCHWARTZ, 38 years old, Garrett, Ind.

THREE BOYS, children of Mrs. Schwartz, ranging in ages from six to sixteen.

Injured: C. C. SCHWARTZ, Garrett, Ind., thigh broken, leg crushed. Schwartz is the father of the three children and the husband of the woman dead.

MICHAEL CUKAN, conductor, in charge of the Chicago and Erie train; internally injured.

C. W. JONES, Mansfield, O., conductor on the Baltimore and Ohio train, leg broken and body bruised.

Mrs. JEWELL SUNDERLAND, Sioux City, Iowa, body bruised and wrists sprained.

BRITAIN BACKS UP PORTE. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Monday, Aug. 8.—In connection with the volunteer fleet question the Porte, which is being supported by Great Britain, has reminded the Russian government of its agreement with Turkey in 1891. This agreement stipulates that vessels of the volunteer fleet must not carry guns and munitions of war. The Porte also demands that the vessels shall traverse the Bosphorus separately.

PROTEST GOES FURTHER. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 9, 3:21 p.m.—The Associated Press learns that irrespective of the question whether the British steamer Knight Commander was a lawful prize, Great Britain's protest against the sinking of that vessel by the Vladivostok squadron goes further, to the right of Russia to destroy a neutral ship in advance of the judgment of a prize court, and while she does not specifically ask for compensation for damages, she does so by implication.

MISS NELLIE BROWN, New York, body bruised and wrist sprained.

C. G. HANOLD, Chicago, thrown from rear platform of Baltimore and Ohio train, body bruised.

MRS. M. E. FRY and nephew, both severely injured.

A rigid investigation will be made to determine the responsibility.

Late tonight the police arrested Mr. Moore, bookman, and Benjamin F. Waller, conductor of the freight train that caused the disaster.

PUEBLO DEATH LIST GROWS. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

PUEBLO (Colo.) Aug. 9.—Organized searching parties scoured the Fountain River banks for miles today in the hope of finding the remaining bodies of the victims of Sunday's wreck at Eden. Seven more bodies were recovered and a number of those previously recovered were identified. Those identified:

DW. F. MUNN, Pueblo.

THOMAS O. HANNAN, Pueblo.

J. Q. THOMAS AND WIFE, Pueblo.

A. M. SCHMIDT, Denver.

L. A. STEVENS.

MISS DOWNING AND DAUGHTER.

CARLIE, Colorado Springs.

MISS ALICE SHOU, Fort Wayne, Ind.

W. D. SALISBURY, cattleman, Sterling, Colo.

MISS CARRIE BISHOP, Pueblo.

A Coroner's jury was called, which viewed the scene of the wreck today and examined a number of witnesses. The examination into the causes of the accident will be continued tomorrow. It is thought that it will require more than a week to hear all the witnesses that have been subpoenaed.

Again today the morgue and undertaking establishments were besieged by relatives and friends. The work of identification is progressing slowly, as the bodies now being recovered are in bad condition.

After wandering about since the accident, William M. Henry, a traveler who had given his gold to a Greek ville, Tempe reached Pueblo today. He was nearly blind and almost crazy from hardship and exposure. He had been carried nine miles down the river, and had been walking aimlessly about the desert floor. He was taken to a hospital, where he is lying in a serious condition. He was carrying his grip when found, but is unable to give a coherent account of how he saved it or what happened to him.

SEVENTY-SIX BODIES.

At 9 a.m. the total number of identified bodies recovered from the Eden wreck at this hour is 72; unidentified dead, 2.

The list of those reported missing has been growing all day, and now nearly reached forty.

One searching party is still out near the scene of the wreck. The party which went south brought in five bodies tonight.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The only additional war news appearing in the London papers this morning takes the form of sensational rumors. For instance, it is reported from Shanghai that the Russians are retreating northward from Anhwei.

The Daily Telegraph's Chefoo correspondent reports that a great land and sea fight occurred at Port Arthur, August 8, and that the Japanese were repulsed. Over a thousand Russians were killed, the correspondent says.

The Tokio correspondent of the Times says he learns on the best authority that there is no truth whatever in the Russian rumors of Japanese reverses, with heavy losses at Port Arthur.

The Times this morning asserts that within the last ten days the North German Lloyd line and the Hamburg-American Steamship Company freely accepted at Antwerp cargoes for the Chinese plant from Intercolonial.

The objection to Donnelly's presence in the district comes from the fact of the Chinese plant from Intercolonial.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY.

Victim of Railroad Disaster Was One of Most Prominent Students at St. Patrick's Seminary.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES: STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 9.—Miss Irene L. Wright, one of the victims of yesterday night's disaster on the Missouri Pacific, was one of the most prominent women students who have ever gone through Stanford University. Miss Wright completed her course last May, her special line of work being teen in history. She was a "Robbie Hall girl," and for a time during her senior year her mother, Mrs. N. L. Wright, was prominent in dramatics, and was a member of the English Club. She was assistant editor of the college daily and got on the board of the editor. She also acted on the board of the college literary weekly, and during her senior year was its editor-in-chief. Beside being an active force in college circles politically, Miss Wright wrote for various newspapers and special writing for various newspapers, and was a strong and able student.

Work on the final wing of St. Patrick's Seminary has been begun. Since this structure has been in use, but its right wing has stood unfinished. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars raised by the donations of the students and faculty will go toward this latest addition to be made. A small but ornate chapel, costing $100,000, is being built in the rear of the main school structure. The latter which is of pressed brick and stone, will house the largest and most complete school for priests on the coast.

Student-body Treasurer Barret for Stanford University and Pete Smith, representing the Peacock Olympic, have arranged the first game of the football season for September 17. A game has already been arranged with the University of Oregon, which has not played Stanford for several years.

The game will be with one to be played with the Sherman Indians, are all thus far signed.

And the victor of the primaries was rank P. Flint.

Which does not mean that the fight over or that Mr. Flint has been elected Senator.

With the aid of Democratic votes Flint carried eighty-one of the Los Angeles precincts yesterday, to twenty-seven for Bard—three to one.

There are 705 delegates in the Republican county convention. As the above table shows Flint has 359 delegates; Bard, 312, and 34 are in doubt. The table is arranged by Assembly districts. Returns have been received from the entire city and from all but a few small country precincts with which there is no wire connection, and the lines is able to make an unusually full summary.

Having secured control of the county convention, the Flint forces will be able to organize that body and will undoubtedly pass Flint resolutions. As the canvass now stands Flint has eight out of the legislative delegation of fourteen from Los Angeles county, Senators and Representatives including holdovers, while Bard has six. As nearly as can be ascertained his delegation will stand as follows:

Senators. For Bard. For Flint. E. W. Camp. W. H. Savage.

E. W. Camp. B. F. Hahn. H. E. Carter. C. W. Pendleton.

Assemblymen. John A. Goodrich. W. A. Johnstone. C. J. Walker. W. H. Keiso.

P. A. Stanton. H. G. S. McCartney. J. P. Transue. T. S. Rishel. C. C. Bowen.

It cannot be stated as a matter of fact who will be elected till after the assembly District conventions have been held.

Flint has loudly claimed that he would have a majority of the Southern California delegation in the Legislature, but he has failed to make good. This is the significant fact of the campaign. While he has won a substantial advantage in Los Angeles, it is of little avail to him with the bulk of Southern California against him. Bard today has a majority of the Southern Senators and Representatives by eight. After all the conventions shall have been held the counts will line up about as follows:

For Flint. For Bard. For In.

Last evening the Bard managers accepted the Los Angeles defeat with good grace, but insisted that it was due to Democratic votes. "We cannot win against both the Republican and the Democratic push," they said. "The battle is yet to be fought out on a larger field and our courage as to the result is good."

The rejoicing at the Flint headquarters was very great when Candidate Flint arrived at 8:30, in answer to urgent telephone requests from "the boys." It passed ordinary limits upon the arrival of Leo Youngworth and Oscar Lawler, a little later. They took their favorite in their arms and hugged him as they might have done their sweethearts, while Youngworth fell upon his neck and kissed him. The infection caught the crowd and so arduous was the lovefest that Mr. Flint broke down at the remarkable protestations of regard and wept for joy.

Then the leaders, catching Youngworth's enthusiasm, hugged each other and felicitated themselves upon the result in their several precincts.

Mr. Flint was deeply touched and as he could return the salutations. He quietly said:

"Well, boys, I'm thankful to you all and all I care for was to win out in the fight for your sakes."

"You'll be the next Senator, all right," cried Youngworth, and then the crowd gave three cheers for Flint.

Mr. Flint is realizing that "there is many a slip twixt cup and lip," expressed himself in a way that indicated that he felt the whole fight had not been won.

SIXTY-SEVENTH ASSEMBLY.

J. A. Goodrich will probably represent the Sixty-seventh Assembly District in the State Legislature, but on the first ballot at least he will be under the necessity of voting for whomver the machine may dictate. Enough delegates were yesterday secured by the machine to instruct the nominee.

"Goodrich should decline to accept of electors yesterday chosen, J. P. Transue, the incumbent, is a candidate for reelection. In the Seventh Ward, which comprises a large part of this district, the delegates were chosen entirely to support Bard. Lauder, the supervisor. A deal was effected by which the Lauder delegates were to support Flint instructions, but with a number of them Transue is persona non grata. It was favored by a number of the delegates. It was claimed last night that he was assured of enough delegates to secure the Assembly nomination.

Delegates voted to re-nominate Transue for the reason that he is not the best and they are fearing lest the district be lost to the Democrats.

SEVENTY-FOURTH ASSEMBLY.

Whether the nominees from the Seventy-fourth Assembly District will be known until after the district convention is held. The Soldiers' Home precinct went solidly for Bard, and it is claimed for Rishel. Houser's friends insist that a number of the delegates will vote for him, with Bard instructions attached.

One of the pleasant surprises of the day to the reform forces was the victory of the reform ticket in two precincts. First among these was Bard's own. These precincts, coupled with the precincts at the Soldiers' Home, insure Bard instructions from the district.

SEVENTY-FIFTH ASSEMBLY.

Flint tickets won in a majority of the precincts in the Seventy-fifth Assembly District. Who will be the choice of the district convention, however, will depend on which of the machine candidates gives promise of doing the most for the machine. Of C. Bowens, John Ray and J. H. Kramers, James A. Harris made a clean sweep, taking the machine, and but for the influx of Democratic votes would have won.

THIRTY-FIFTH SENATORIAL.

Bard tickets won in a majority of the precincts in the Thirty-fifth Senatorial District. E. W. Camp's friends were last night claiming that he would be nominated on the first ballot. The others, though, are to one pro-Bard, and while Camp has already declared for Bard he will probably receive Bard instructions from the senatorial convention. Other candidates in this district were Howard Brown, Frank Johnson and Charles Gordon.

SIXTY-NINTH ASSEMBLY.

In a majority of the precincts in the Sixty-ninth Assembly District no Flint tickets were in the field. Long Beach, Alamitos and other country precincts in the southwestern end of the district elected delegations pledged to support C. W. H. Keiso and Long Beach.

Practically all these delegates will support the candidates from the transportation line, pronounced in politics in uncertain terms.

Practically all these delegates will support the candidates from the transportation line, pronounced in politics in uncertain terms.

SIXTY-FIRST ASSEMBLY.

Combinations in the Supervisorial fight complicated the results of the election in the Sixty-first Assembly District, in the sense that it is impossible to learn just whom some of the delegates will support for State Senator. The candidates are Pete Brown and Miller of Long Beach, and him in large numbers Fred M. Smith, the incumbent, made an independent canvass and had a ticket in a number of precincts, but failed to secure any delegates.

SECOND SUPERVISORIAL.

The fight between Alexander and Lauder in the Second Supervisorial District was close and both sides were last night claiming victory. Late last night Alexander secured the Seventh and Ninth wards, but Alexander secured the Fourth and Fifth Ward delegations. Lauder was backed by the liquor dealers, who will have the largest number of the temperance workers. The result of this contest will be determined by the trades made among the delegates after the convention meets.

Lauder's friends base their hope for victory on the fact that the Liquor Dealers' Association in return for keeping the Bard candidates from making inroads in the Ninth Ward, Blanchard, the god of the Ninth Ward machine, will deliver the vote of the ward at unit. He attempts to do the same with the liquor dealers, who will be present at the convention and that it will be up to them to defeat Bard instructions from the district to nominate Wilson and Lauder.

FOURTH SUPERVISORIAL.

So complicated was the Supervisorial fight in the Fourth Supervisorial District that it is impossible to learn just whom some of the delegates will support for State Senator. The candidates are Pete Brown and Miller of Long Beach, and him in large numbers Fred M. Smith, the incumbent, made an independent canvass and had a ticket in a number of precincts there were irregularities which in an unprejudiced county convention would result in upsetting a number of delegations in Precinct 10. Phil Stanton, another was on the election board. He did all that the law allows to secure the election of delegates favoring his son's candidacy. One of Stanton's sons, the elder, pleasantries was on the ballot, but the machine put the name of the son on the ballot, and the sticker containing the name of the Flint delegates, their ballots would not be legal. He said that the election was to be decided by the machine, and that the Flint tickets were only to be four. In this precinct a number of persons came to the polls to vote whose names were not on the great register.

The Democratic push did not prevail in this precinct in Pasadena. Flint delegates were elected in five precincts.

Following is a list of the delegates elected:

Precinct No. 1—Dr. L. P. Crawford, M. L. Linnard, H. C. Holton, George A. Powell, W. J. Miller, J. L. Lopez.

Romanesque Chapel.

The Dominican Sisters have been making many improvements at the Heart School on the East Side, and among the changes they have made up the pretty choir room in the manse style for their own use. The chapel will have arched ceilings and cathedral-glass windows.

Angelenos in Africa.

Dr. Silas F. Johnson, the missionary in West Africa, who recently married Miss Mosher of this city, sends interesting accounts of the progress of his work among the Bulu African. Both he and Mrs. Johnson will teach in the school at Eufulon, and he is also at work on a dictionary of the Bulu language.

The Presbyterian ministers have arranged for a vacation conference to be held at La Jolla next Thursday. The object is stated to be recreation, information and inspiration. Among the speakers will be Rev. Dr. H. G. Gage, Dr. Frank Talmage, Dr. Hugh K. Williams, Rev. Dr. A. A. Clark, Pearson, Fessenden, J. M. Newell, Davis, Young, Compton, Dwight E. Potter of Oakland; Dr. Jeffers of Gilchrist.

Policemen to See Sights.

Sgt. Haupt and Patrolman Haupt of the police force will leave today for an extended summer trip. They have secured leave of absence for forty days, and purpose seeing the sights, including the World's Fair. They will stop in San Francisco, Las Vegas, Colorado Springs, and Denver en route to Chicago, and after a short stay in Chicago, will return to Los Angeles.

In the City, Sgt. Haupt will join his wife in Elkhart, Ind., where she has been visiting a month. This is Sgt. Haupt's first extended vacation in over eight years.

Tear Capsule Acid.

Rufus Edwards, a deaf mute, was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday afternoon suffering from a dose of carbolic acid, taken with suicidal intent, but the surgeons say he will get well. Edwards resides at No. 911 North Spring street, a small corner by trade. He came here from St. Louis, as shown by a printed card in his pocket, and a letter to Chief Hammel tells of being out of work and of trouble with his wife and other women figure. He declared his intention of ending his life.

Strangle Death.

An unknown man, about 30 years of age, smooth shaven and shabbily dressed, was found dead in a vacant lot near Cahuenga and East Third-street about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Death was apparently due to natural causes. The remains were removed to Breser Bros., undertaking establishment. The clothing worn by the deceased would indicate his identity. Earlier in the afternoon the man had appeared at the house of C. E. Hughes on Thirty-second street, and asked for a drink of water. Later he retired to the shade of a tree and apparently slept there.

Kidnapping Charged.

Mateo Maldonado, an old man, was arrested last night on complaint of Juan Ordonez, charging kidnapping. Maldonado is alleged to have abducted Delina, the ten-year-old daughter of Ordonez, from his father's home at No. 650 New High street, but Maldonado claims to be the child's godfather and says he took her away from Ordonez because the latter had treated her badly. It seems Maldonado took the child to a trading camp near Garamba early yesterday morning, and swore he would not give her up. She had frequently lived with Maldonado since her mother died, and says she likes him better than her father. The case will be tried in Justice Austin's court.

Rural Carriers Fortunate.

Rural free delivery carriers are rejoicing over news from Washington that their salaries, over which there has been considerable contention because of a reduction inaugurated some time ago by Postmaster General Burrows, have been satisfactorily adjusted, with a substantial increase to a certain class. Under the new ruling all carriers appointed prior to June 29, 1904, who were entitled to the maximum pay of $60 a year, under the rules which govern the establishment of rates at that time, will receive the maximum pay of $72. The local branch of the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association will meet in the "Times" Building Saturday night at 8 o'clock for a presentation.

To E. F. Seaman, part owner of the Olympic opera company, now playing at the Casino Theatre, was given a very pleasant surprise after the first act of "Giroto Giroto" last night in commemoration of his thirteenth year of his comic opera stage. A handsome Elk's head pin, studded with diamonds, was the gift with which his friends and associates surprised him. The memory. After the close of the first act, the curtain was rung up again, and Mr. W. Wyatt, elected as spokesman, handed Mr. Seaman the pin with a few well-chosen remarks. Mr. Seaman responded cordially and then joined the chorus and orchestra in "Auld Lang Syne," which gained a round of applause from the audience. Mr. Seaman, last night, was acting in the play "Carl Heyden," the company's leading tenor, who has been temporarily incapacitated, but will resume his role this evening.

SAN DIEGO. DARLING and GLOVER.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 9.—Today in the town court Justice Thorp declined to place Postmaster Glover of La Jolla under bonds to keep the peace, as per the request of C. B. Darling, correspondent of the Los Angeles papers, in charge of Glover's assault, and with the greatest bodily injury at the latter's store in La Jolla. In dismissing the case Justice Thorp said he thought if Darling behaved himself when visiting Glover's store there would be no trouble.

DENIES THE CHARGE.

A young man named Jack Storn was arrested in this city last night on a complaint sworn to by Mrs. Norah Johnson, claiming her husband had committed a criminal assault upon her fifteen-year-old daughter on Sunday night. He was taken to the County Jail. Storn denies the charge and when arrested he collapsed and remained unconscious for a long time. Storn is about 22 years of age.

NO HONEY CROP.

This year's honey crop in this county is practically a complete failure, owing to a lack of bee feed caused by scant rainfall during last winter. Many colonies of bees, a all likelihood, will be lost, while others will be carried through on bought honey. This is the first honey-free fall in this country.

PRIMARY RESULTS.

Republican and Democratic primaries for the State, district and county conventions were held in this city today.

The following were chosen by the Republicans as delegates to the State and Eighteenth Congress: District conventions: F. W. Barnes, D. C. Collier, F. W. Starnes, Carl I. Ferris, F. Abrahams, Victor E. Shaw, D. Goehnauer, Walter T. Blake.

Delegates were also chosen to the Republican county convention. The majority voted to fit the candidacy of F. W. Barnes for the Seventy-ninth District, and Percy Johnson for Assemblyman from the Eighteenth District.

A majority of the county convention delegates is understood to be opposed to giving any instructions regarding the Senatorial contest.

At the Democratic primaries the following were chosen delegates to the State and district conventions: George M. McKeown, George J. Maguire, Will Palmer, Herman Marks, W. H. W. Schiller, Isaac Irwin and Sam Schiller from the city, and D. D. Lawrence, M. V. Hoblit, E. F. Fallis, Jerry O'Connell and M. J. O'Farrell from the county.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1904.

UNIQUE PROJECT OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

To Start Work at Once on New Fifty-mile Line Crossing Colorado River Delta Country—Travelers May Escape the Desert.

ACTUAL work is to begin very soon on a railroad project at once so unique, and so important to Los Angeles as a commercial center that it can hardly be equaled in the modern history of the "opening up" of the arid Southwest, either from the tourist or the industrial standpoint.

A transcontinental railroad from New Orleans to Los Angeles running and Colonization Company, Limited, a wealthy English syndicate of which H. Packard of Ensenada is the resident manager.

This land on the Mexican side of the line, though now a desert, without water, is remarkably fertile, and when irrigated, will be adapted to agriculture and stock raising in its most profitable forms. With irrigation and quick railroad access to Los Angeles time as ordinarily. Upon the eastern traveling public this fact will no doubt have a stimulating influence, as it certainly will on the passenger receipts of the Southern Pacific, a stretch of 100 miles across the desert west of Yuma, tourists to the Coast may travel by the Inter-California route through what will be the most famous modern irrigated region on earth—the two great farms—the Cucapah and Amargosa belt on the desert, through which the Southern Pacific already passes, being among the chief wonders of the irrigated Southwest. The only forbidding desert of all is the Sonoran. Pacific overland route will be from Indio to the San Bernardino Mountains.

Another important sign in the railroad heavens is the field work now under way by the Southern Pacific preliminary to a plan under consideration for a branch line from some point on the proposed Calexico-Yuma branch southwesterly to Ensenada, capital of the northern district of the Territory of Baja California, Mexico, a distance of about 100 miles. This end of the completed, would mean a direct tide-water connection for Los Angeles with a Mexican port, and would be another valuable commercial tentacle for this city. Ensenada is on the Pacific Coast of Lower California, about 100 miles back went out of his head from the effects of overwork. Her idea is that he started for Anaheim and, so to speak, was jerked out of his mind. She believes that he has been traveling about all this time in a sort of trance and has just come to his senses.

As supply man of the Harvey eating-house service in Los Angeles, Mr. Nevius had great responsibility. This was his terminus station, a place where stocking is done. Keeping the eating stations stocked properly is more difficult than an outsider would imagine. Nevius worked early and late.

What convinced the family that it was something far out of the ordinary is that Mr. Nevius is a man of exemplary habits; with many men the suspicion would have been merely in favor of a booze.

As supply man to traveling, Nevius would have been more easily able to get about, in a crippled condition of mind, than a less traveled man.

Mrs. Nevius offered a reward which will seem to be coming to her husband.

After getting the telegram yesterday she immediately held a consultation with her relatives here in the city, the result being her determination to take no steps until she hears further from her husband.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

PRICE 3 CENTS

HUMORS OF BLOODY ATE.

"El Hutch" Did Great Comedy Performance.

Statesman Savage Morosely Kept His Castle.

No Buggy Rides for Discontented Patriots.

"El Hutch" did a great sister act in the "Bloody Ate" yesterday—with himself.

Himself one of the candidates of the Democratic ticket, Hutch acted as dog catcher for Mr. Flint.

By one of fate's unconscious ironies one of the delegates on the Republican ticket was a young man named E. Hutchison.

"Hutch" had been working for some time herding in voters to ballot for Flint before he discovered this. At length he happened to pick up a Republican ballot and when a start read upon it "E. Hutchison." In a panic, he grabbed up the Democratic ballot and there "E. L. Hutchison" was on it.

So near to reality that "Hutch" turned green around the gills.

"H.M." he said anxiously. "Do you suppose, do you suppose now for a minute, that anyone will believe that I am in both places?"

They tried to console him by telling him that no one knew he had any other name but "El Hutch." He was so disturbed in mind, however, that he came back half a dozen times to the voting booth in Tom Savage's district to see if anybody had really thought so.

Tom kept the tenderloin guessing yesterday. Contrary to the royal custom, the king of the "Bloody Ate" stayed in his castle.

Oddly enough someone slipped unsmilingly out of the side door of the saloon and voted.

One of them was so overcome with his responsibility in choosing the United States Senator that he sat down in the middle of the sidewalk after casting his ballot and desired to explain the situation to a passing telegraph pole. A policeman got him, and out of Tom's side door rushed a huckster with a little apron, who ran the fellow out of the saloon's hands, set him on his feet and gave him a careful steer down the street, where he weaved a course like a sand

One old fellow with a breath like a gun mill sat around the voting place for a long time begging for drinks, and at last went away much offended. He returned in five minutes in haughty triumph, holding a bottle.

"Tom," he said coldly, "Tom, gimme a beer and gimme 10 cents to treat all my frien's."

There being but one ticket in the saloon, Tom took the Flint ticket—they wouldn't stand for buggy rides, and the voters in "De Ate" were deeply insulted and wouldn't vote.

All day long bosses stood around in the saloon.

Way down in a First street blacksmith shop was the domain of Al Sitton, whose long strivings for fame ended yesterday in having his name spelt wrong on the ballot.

With a kind of look in his eye, Albert had rented grocer's wagon and a man in shirt sleeves wearing a Flint badge and went racing wildly around. He ordered them all out.

Even the old woman who keeps a fruit store around the corner was appealed to.

If you know anyone who hasn't voted or if you know anyone who has a notion that he can't be able to vote, send his name around.

What Albert sees himself elected to, who knows? Albert has fancied himself in almost hourly peril of getting a job for some years.

In the old precinct on Wilmington street where so many fierce fights have waged, it was as peaceful as a dull sermon on June.

Tom Collins is not just what you would call the hero of this district. Tom is the father confesses a patriarch, voting the fathers, kissing the children and telling when it is time for men and their wives to quit "rowing" and "rowdyism" and mournfully around yesterday and today.

Even the old woman who keeps a fruit store around the corner was appealed to.

Probably they didn't know; but they were careless and guilty.

Throughout the entire day an American flag was displayed in front of the Police Station attached to the end of which was a sign bearing the inscription: "Precinct 25."

Somebody was guilty of flag desecration, but in the hurly-burly of the day nobody noticed it. Election managers in Precinct No. 25 were too busy with their political axes to care a continental for anything else.

Sordidness and not patriotism guided the men behind the rail, as well as those who went up to cast their ballots.

Also, nobody noticed that a large sign, displayed for the guidance of voters, announced that the Police Station was a "pooling place." Nobody seemed to care.

The whole scene was incongruous, uncivilized, heathenish and yet-American.

Political boosters thought nothing of the eternal fines of things; police officers passed under the desecrated flag and failed to notice it; voters went up and read the "pooling place" sign, glanced at the flag-trailing, ashamed and insulted by the attached card and passed up the stairs to cast ballots for delegates to the county convention.

None of them thought did they bestow upon the desecrated flag.

Along about 4 o'clock a white-haired veteran from the Soldiers' Home climbed the First-street hill and stopped when he saw the flag bearing "Precinct 25" posted.

"I'll live there," he said for doing that thing innocently, he said, "but the consummate ass that don't know better than to shame the Stars and Stripes, should be tarred and feathered."

The little knot of "important politicians" gathered at the foot of the sign didn't know what the old veteran was talking about. Their aims were lofty, on aspiring to become a deputy constable and another County Clerk, while another figured on something else.

The flag remained disgraced and dragged until another man came along and told the group of "country savers" that it is against the law to print on or attach to an American flag any sign or inscription whatever.

The disgraced flag finally came down.

Why Birds Live so Long.

Why do birds live so much longer than mammals, which are often a hundred times their size?

Possibly, among other things, because they have beaks instead of teeth. All like birds to strengthen their teeth.

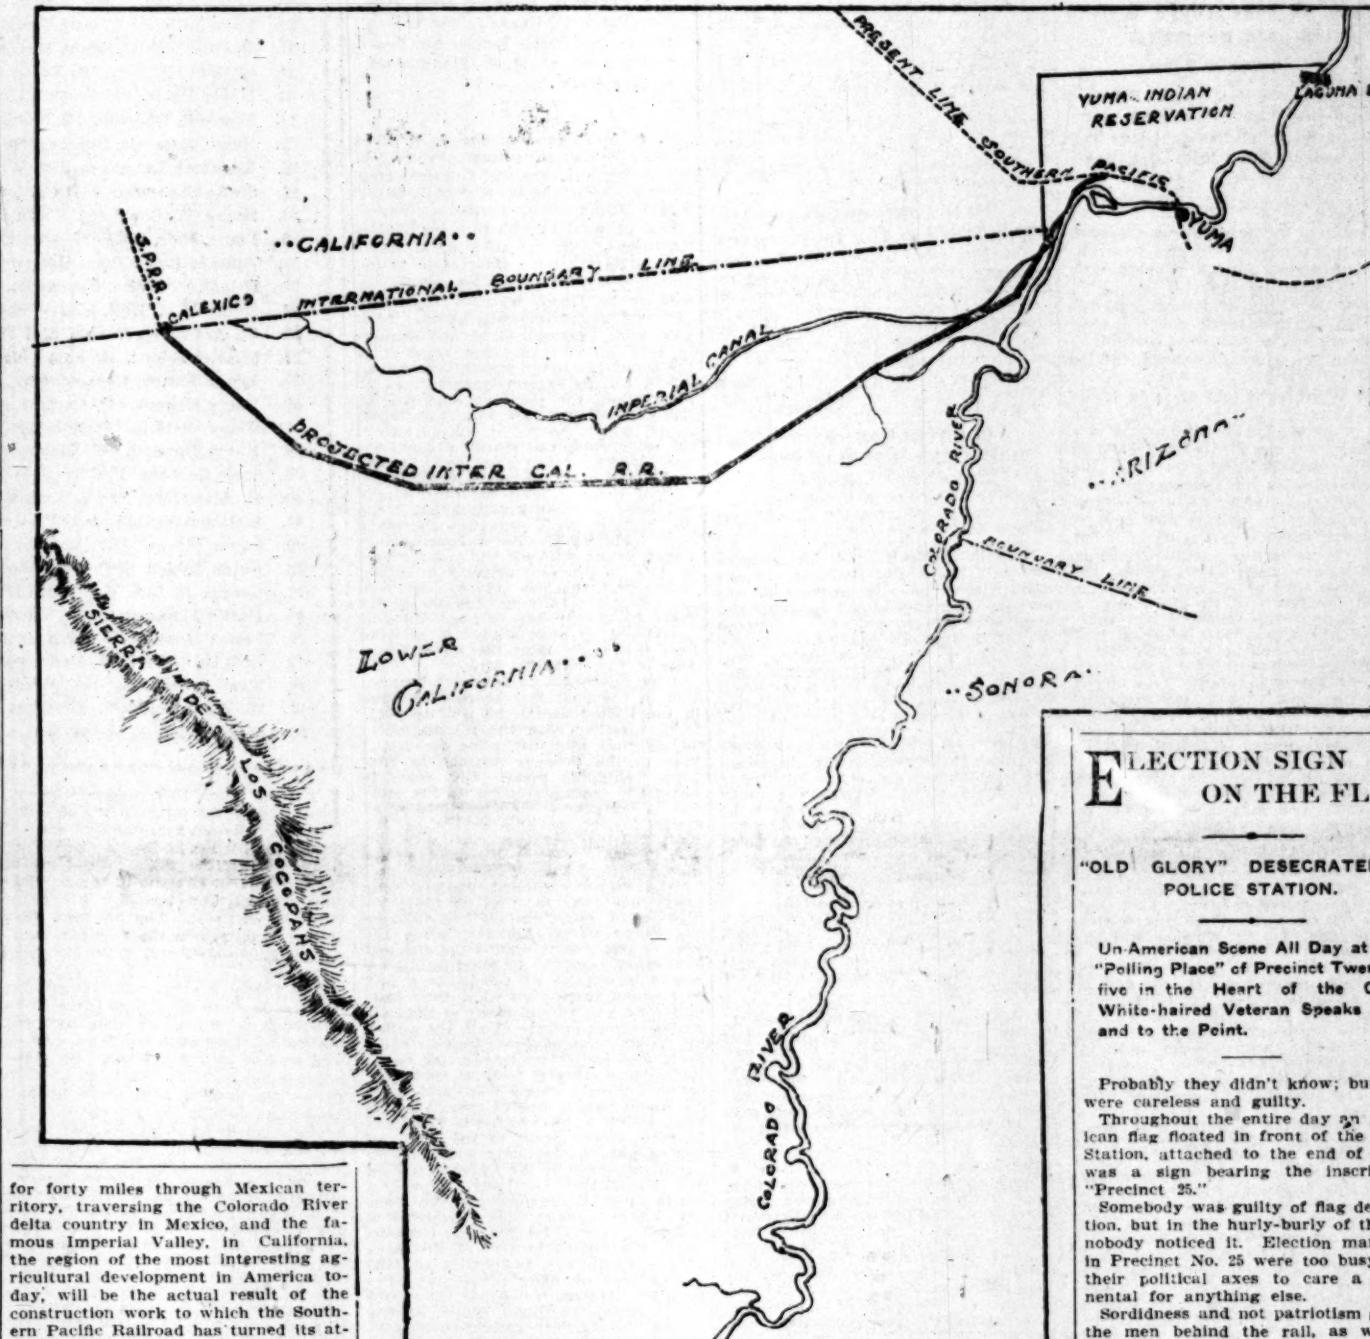

Further than that, the family here know nothing more than they did before.

Mrs. Nevius will wait for a letter before making up her mind what to do; whether to go to him or not.

The sudden news has so unstrung her that she could not be seen last night.

A member of her family stated, however, that her opinion in regard to her husband's disappearance has remained the same from the first.

"Mrs. Nevius believes that her hus-

CIVIL SERVICE MEN DO POLITICS.

CITY EMPLOYEES TAKE ACTIVE PART IN PRIMARIES.

First Test of Working Out of Commissioners Rule Against "Pernicious Activity"—Contention that Restrictions do Not Hold Good in County or State Politics.

The city's civil service employees took a hand in yesterday's political battle. This is the first opportunity the advocates of the system have had to see what effect it would have politically upon the men under its rules and protection.

So far as yesterday's primaries were concerned it apparently did not make the slightest difference.

Nearly everyone at the City Hall took a more or less active part in the fight.

In some instances civil service men were not only on their party ticket, but spent all or nearly all of the day trying to get themselves elected. It was common talk at the City Hall that some of the most strenuous workers in the field were under the classified civil service.

The Civil Service Commission in a circular letter dated June 15, 1904, makes the following declaration:

"Participation of employees in the classified civil service in partisan politics except to vote, is contrary to the spirit of the Charter and subversive to the best interests of civil service."

"Inasmuch as civil service employees are relieved from the effects of partisan politics, and are not appointed and removed of office, it is the regulation of the system that they should be inhibited from engaging in active partisan political work."

Among a large majority of the city employees who take an aggressive part anywhere is contrary to the spirit of the system. These men point out that one taking a leading part in the county political affairs can return for work down the road, exerting his influence, although he does not openly take an active part in the municipal campaign.

For months there has been much talk at the City Hall about what certain ones were going to do in politics this year. One or two were bold as to what they did, and take an active part in the circular issued by the commission and that they proposed to attend even the city convention as delegates.

But the contestants of opinion is that we may any day take an active part in things too far he would be called upon the carpet by the commissioners and possibly dismissed from the service.

"One of the best friends I have in the city is a civil service employee," yesterday. "is a candidate on one of the tickets in my ward, and I would like mighty well to get out and help him, but I don't think it would be right to do so. I consider it contrary to the spirit of civil service, and I don't like to stay home and do nothing when others in the same position as I am are not leaving a stone unturned to elect their friends."

"I would like to see the commission enforce its rule to the letter."

CHILDREN'S PARK.

GROUND TO BE FITTED UP.
Mrs. Willoughby Rodman and Miss Jessie Stoddard, representing the outdoor section of the Civic Federation; Mayor Snyder and Councilman Kern held a meeting yesterday to discuss plans for the improvement of the recently-purchased playground in the Seventh Ward.

There are three buildings on the property that will have to be moved. The owners have been given thirty days to do the work. As soon as it is done a fence will be put up around the lot and the ground leveled.

It is expected that the Council will order that the leveling of the grounds be done by the chain gang.

A building will be used for a gymnasium will then be constructed and handball, basketball and tennis courts and a baseball diamond will be laid out, sand piles and teeter boards will be provided for the smaller ones.

A suggestion from Councilman Kern that seemed to meet with considerable favor was that the Council be asked to pass an ordinance placing the playground under the care of a committee similar in its powers to the Art Commission.

Delegates have not yet been passed for the transfer of the property, but this will be done soon, as this part of the transaction is simply awaiting a report from the abstract company as to the title. As soon as the city secures actual possession the work of improvement will begin.

POLICE COMMISSION.

PERMITS GRANTED.
At the meeting of the Police Commission Mayor Snyder called the Chief's attention to the fact that the Council had advertised for bids for hay for his department without authority from the commissioners.

The Chief said that matter was turned over to one of his men and that he made no further instructions.

The explanation was satisfactory and the matter was dropped.

Henry Emile was given permission to run a wholesale liquor establishment on East Seventh street east of the river.

The Imperial Cafe liquor licensee was transferred from Mader & Zobelein to Max Nickle.

M. L. Starin was given a license to operate a billiard hall at No. 613 San Fernando street.

George W. Hammer was given a permit for street preaching at Seventh and Broadway every night except Saturday, and A. E. Clark will be allowed to conduct his services at Seventh and Olive streets.

The petition of A. J. Jones for a billiard hall at No. 1826 South Main street was denied without prejudice. J. F. Stockton, agent of the commission in Jones' behalf and stated that the protestants were simply friends of the proprietor of the establishment already operating in the neighborhood.

If the applicant can overcome the objections of the property owner thereto the permit will be granted.

The petitions of Starin & Vincent for a retail liquor house at No. 615 San Fernando street of Roy Thurman for a billiard hall at No. 510 Aliso street; of Joseph Galliano for a like business at No. 1217 North Main street, and of Juan Ordoqui for a retail liquor store at No. 308 Aliso street were referred to the Chief.

Officer A. D. Hurst was granted a two month's leave of absence.

ESTATE OF MISS ADELE WYNNE HAS LAIN DORMANT.

Now After Twelve Years, During Which the Will of Deceased Was Fought, the Small Remnant is to be Distributed—Who Will Get the "Salmi" of Velvet?

"I want to be buried in my silk suit, trimmed with lace, new black stockings and gloves. Black slippers also, and I wish to have my hair dressed in a nice casket."

Those were the directions left behind her by Miss Lizzie Adele Wynne in the will she herself drew, and which has been the cause of a good deal of trouble.

Miss Wynne was laid away in Evergreen Cemetery in the "silk suit," but her property has been hanging fire for years, for she died at Norwalk on February 12, 1892, and ever since the case has been in the Probate Court.

At that time D. W. Field was Public Administrator, and he took part of the estate, which was valued at about $2500. Owing to the peculiar wording of the will a contest arose, though the court eventually ruled in favor of the testator in the terms of the document.

The deceased had written to Senator W. A. Clark, T. C. G. Clark, B. Mont., J. Ross Clark, T. F. Miller and F. W. Burnett, Los Angeles.

commission yesterday. In everyday life the wild man is known as Charles Burns, and he lives at Pasadena. Last Wednesday night he was gathered in by the police while engaged in performing a war dance outside the bedroom door of his ladyship. He had dressed for the occasion—or rather undressed—and was capering about in a pair of tattered unmentionables when arrested.

William Burns was in his right mind. He is a colored man of a very dark cast of countenance, who for years traveled with the circus as the "Wild Man" and had an omnivorous appetite for gluttony. Nothing in the glass was spared him, but tender and succulent young wineglasses were his fancy, though for solid eating he preferred a substantial finger bowl. Just as a bonne-bouche, too, he was playfully to switch packages of the tobacco and gobble them up as kind of hors d'oeuvre.

But when Burns left the circus and went to live in Pasadena he was thrown upon his own resources. People were not willing to sacrifice their glasses to any extent for the dubious pleasure of seeing how much of it could be consumed, one man named "Wild Man" and if he wanted him tackle he had to buy them.

For amusement, as Burns stated, he took to cocaine. He denied that he was a fiend, or that he had been ordered to take it for medical ailments. He took it to "feel good," and though he didn't take it very often, when he did there was always an impromptu circus roundabout there and then.

Occasionally, too, he confessed, that he took small sips of chloroform and similar drugs, but he had not been able to work up to the old-time steady enjoyment of a bountiful meal of fish. He promised to mend his ways, however, so far as baneful drugs were concerned, and thereupon he was discharged from custody.

RIGHT OF WAY.

Judge Conrey has held that the city must lay the storm drain in the middle line of Sixth and Alameda to Seventh and Mateo streets rather than take the direct route desired. The city brought a condemnation suit against Caroline Corbett, et al., and the judgment is virtually one against the city.

The short cut would have saved the city, it was said, about $35,000 in laying the sewer main, but would have absorbed a large amount for condemning a right of way. Under the court's ruling the sewer will cost no extra for condemnation, but there will be no outlay for a dollar.

It does not appear clearly to whom of this property is left. At least it is agreed that Mrs. Mattie Salmon is to have the "Salmi" of Velvet, with the beautiful things mentioned, and one dollar thrown in for luck. As an alternative the heirs, whoever they might be, were to take the whole thing or the estate. Under the court's ruling the sewer will cost no extra for condemnation, and as a consequence even while their estimates were small and many of the canaries did not operate at all, the outlay for the six right canaries was $1000.

As an illustration of this, costs of $15,000 to put in a single trap, and there are about twenty-five in operation this year, nearly all of which will fall short of their original cost in one full swoon, the largest gain made by any contestant during the present contest, he went up to second place last week.

He did not remain there long, however, as other contestants followed him.

Frenzied buying of wheat resulted in a net gain of practically a cent a bushel at Chicago yesterday. September closed firm at 101 7-8. One element of the rally in stocks at New York was the buying to cover by professionals. Southern Pacific led as it led the day before. United States Steel and Metropolitan Street Railway were very active.

THE BATTLE NOT YET DE-

CINED.

It was a hard fight in Los Angeles county yesterday—and victory perches upon the Flint standard. The wheels of the "machine" appear to have been oiled with customary care and efficiency; and the persuasive "programmers" may be pardoned for smiling with some satisfaction at the success of the occasion—from their viewpoint.

But the winning of a skirmish does not by any means decide the issue of a great battle; and yesterday's fight may properly be regarded as only a skirmish. Senator Bard has several such victories to his credit; and the honors are fairly even, to date.

Taking into account the known strength of Senator Bard in the South, and that he may yet secure, it is fair to claim that he will go before the Legislature with excellent chances of success. It is also fair to assume that his cause will be materially strengthened by reason of his high standing, and the confidence and respect which are reposed in him throughout the State.

Flint has all along claimed that he would have the South behind him in the contest at Sacramento, but there is nothing in the returns thus far to warrant that claim on his part, or to indicate that he can secure its united support at any time.

The friends of Senator Bard should not be downcast. The game is not ended until it is played out—and the game has not yet been played out, by any manner of means. Mr. Flint is not justified, at the present moment, in taking a long-time lease on a house in Washington.

To be sure, his victory yesterday materially strengthens his candidacy, and makes it obvious that the South will go into the Legislature divided against itself. This will be unfortunate, as by so doing it will run the risk of losing its Senator. However, the succeeding weeks and months may materially change the entire aspect of the Senatorial contest. One thing is certain, Senator Bard is in the race to stay; he will continue to hold up the hands of his friends; and there remains nothing for them to do but make the best of their defeat in yesterday's skirmish, maintain the fight with vigor and determination, and keep it up to the end.

PEACE AND GOOD WILL.

There was many an item of news in yesterday's teeming pages of The Times, good news and bad as it was—the joys and the sorrows of the great world, gathered by the tireless toilers of the press and sent flashing across the earth and under the seven seas. Tales of wreck and ruin there were, the shock of savage wars, the ebb and tide of the marts, chronicles of men and things, politics, marriage and giving in marriage, life and death and all.

But, away along in the silent watches of the night there came a dispatch from Spring Lake, N. J., and when the tired telegraph editor saw it he sat back in his chair for awhile that the sheer joy of the message it carried might play in his heart. It told of a quiet love feast that had been held between great leaders of certain Christian sects which, in the past, had often shown bitterness toward each other. It told of Cardinal Gibbons of the Catholic Church and eminent men of the Methodist Church fraternizing with each other and going to hear each other preach sermons, as though there had never been the slightest difference between them. It was good news and it was well worthy of being printed as it was in The Times in double column space, under big headline letters and with a border of stars around it all. And, doubtless, as it was read, the hearts of all good men and women who love their neighbors rejoiced and were glad thereof.

The Times delights to print news of this character, to tell its readers of the noble things, the kindly and grand things that happen, and especially the things that make for the peace of mankind. Too long, indeed, have the Christians of the world regarded each other with distrust and plan proposed by the bill, the $150,000 will certainly be saved to the treasury, since it will never be possible to award the prize to anyone. The three juries will be less tormented and disturbed, and hindered in their own scientific investigations; and they will have to be paid $10,000 without having discovered a prize winner, if the jurors are honorable, strict specialists.

A few months ago, Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States Weather Bureau, issued a circular to the officials in charge of the various weather bureaus throughout the United States in which he called attention to the harm done by people who, for personal gain, foist upon the public, through the country papers, misleading weather forecasts. Some of these men, Mr. Moore says, may be honest, but they are misguided, and do as much harm as those who are knaves. In his circular, the chief of the Weather Bureau says:

"They may believe that they have discovered a physical law or a meteorological principle that has not been revealed to astronomers, meteorologists, or any other class. Scientific investigations by the publicists of predictions, that by reason of their absolute inaccuracy, are calculated to be positively injurious to agricultural, commercial and other industrial interests, and to the general welfare of the country. They may believe that they have devoted their lives to the promotion of the public welfare. Such publications bring the science of meteorology into disrepute, and cannot therefore be made in response to a desire to advance that science along useful lines; and they retard the work of the honest investigator, through whose efforts, only, gains can be made in fundamental knowledge of the causation of weather that will justify forecasts for a month, or a season in advance."

"As a result of my personal verification of the work of long-range weather forecasters, some of whom have so far gained the confidence of the rural press as to receive liberal compensation for their predictions, I am led to the conclusion that these predicted knowingly perpetrate frauds, and do positive injury to the public at large. It is to be regretted that so many newspapers not only give space to these harmful predictions, but actually pay for them. Persons of the description can properly be classed with advertisements of quack medicines—they are both harmful to the extreme."

"I hope the time will come when it will be possible to furnish the weather for coming seasons, to specify in what respect the coming month or season will conform or depart from the weather that is common in the month or season, but that has not arrived, and I believe that you will be best serving the public interests when, without indulging in personalities or mentioning the names of any long-range forecaster by name, you point out clearly to your readers the limitations of weather forecasting, and warn it against impostors. Your local press should, and doubtless will, co-operate with you in this endeavor."

It is most unreasonable to suppose that, even, the time will come when we shall be able to predict with absolute certainty what kind of weather is to prevail on various portions of the earth's surface a week, a month, or even a long period ahead. But the time is not yet.

The wreck of the Missouri Pacific train near Eden, Colo., Sunday night adds another horror to the catastrophes which have shocked the country during the past several months. From accounts thus far received no one is specially to blame. The engineer was running at a slow speed about fifteen miles an hour, as he approached the bridge at the always brittle though which his train plunged, sending probably seventy or more persons to their death.

The engine, known as Steele's Hollow, is usually dry, but the recent heavy rains in Colorado made it a torrent.

The engine, it appears, passed almost across the bridge before it gave way. Patrolmen are practically useless under the circumstances which existed at Steele's hollow, for it is almost impossible for them to determine the strength of a trestle. Nothing but a dummy train and engine, used constantly as a patrol and affording a genuine test of bridges, can assure the absolute safety of regular trains which use the tracks. The Eden horizon makes it obvious that some means should be devised by railroad companies to make their tracks and bridges safe under unusual circumstances, such as obtain during flood times and the period of landslides in the mountains.

Aug. 9.—Very pitiable is the plight of Mrs. Pearl Foote, a woman deserted by her husband, and left with her two children, a boy 2 years old and a baby four weeks, absolutely without money, or means of support. Her worthless husband informed her a few weeks ago that he was weary of the care of his boy and would be free. A week since he satisfied his longings by leaving his wife and babies and disappearing. Mrs. Foote knows nothing of whereabout his son, who is nearly 20 years of age, a woman worthy of the respect and consideration of the community. Probably the county will give her the fair at St. Louis.

CRAZY NEGRO AMUCK.

Charles Parker, a negro who recently went insane on the desert and took possession of a Santa Fe freight train near Victor, was released from the County Hospital yesterday, and returned to Victor this morning, where he ran amuck, giving the officers and citizens a terrible scare before he was again landed behind bars.

CARNegie LIBRARY OPENED.

The Board of Library Trustees entertained citizens in the new Carnegie Building this evening. The event was the opening of the library in its new quarters at Fourth and D streets. The building was made possible through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie, who contributed $30,000 for the building itself to expend a certain amount in conducting the library, keeping it in repair, and purchasing new books annually. Wednesday morning books will be issued regularly.

AFTER THE BEE INSPECTOR.

Special charges have last been lodged against Bee Inspector Robert Henson. Three different efforts have been made to file charges that would meet the law in the case, but were each time discarded by the board, as not being specific. John H. Leedon, one of the complainants, alleged that last April he requested Henson to inspect his apiary, which was not done until June 25, at which time the inspector reported only one case of foul bee. The other two efforts were filed by the officers caught young. Wall again just after he had burglarized the Jap store on the east side, with an old watch and several sacks of tobacco and packages of paper in his pocket. The officers say the boy has burglarized not less than a hundred places in this city.

BEAUTY CAMPAIGN.

The City Trustees took steps this afternoon in the campaign for beautification of streets and plantings by the appointment of a committee consisting of C. L. McFarland, C. E. Runsey, J. H. Reed, T. L. Seburn, John A. Simms, George Winterbotham and F. A. Miller, to take charge of an organized effort in this direction.

WATER TRIAL NEAR END.

The water fight between the resients of Perris Valley and the Temescal Water Company over the 600 inches of water the latter company is pumping out of the valley is drawing to a close. The arguments will be begun about Thursday.

BERDOOLINES.

The Board of Freeholders organized with A. G. Kendall as president and W. Catick, secretary.

Democratic caucuses were held generally throughout the county last evening, being slimly attended. The principal light center on the nomination was given to the candidates between W. M. Parker, Will Shaw and a man named Horton Parker, won the leading strength at the caucuses, and his nomination seems assured.

The tycoon of Indians got the contract for the main addition to the County Jail, for $22,462.75; steel cell work, Union Iron Works, Los Angeles, $8987; plumber, George M. Cooley.

James Andrews, who led the officers a long chase the other day, was committed to the asylum for the insane yesterday afternoon. Andrews has been quite prominent in Socialist circles for some years, and it is believed that this will bring him into gear or vice versa.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

MONDAY evening at 8 o'clock one of the prettiest and most popular girls of Los Angeles, Miss Estelle M. Cridland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cridland of No. 2289 West Fifteenth street, became the bride of Abbott Spurlock. The service took place at the home of the bride's parents, the couple standing in front of a bank of papyrus, with pepper bouquets in which were enmeshed snowy roses hanging over their heads. Rev. Mr. Hamilton officiated. The bride, who is a stunning girl, was attired in a white chiffon gown, made with many billowy ruffles and trimmed with valenciennes lace. In her arms she carried a short bouquet of roses. The maid of honor, who is a cousin of the bride, was a pretty blonde, and wore a gown of soft white, made with many tucks and trimmed with lace. She carried pink bridesmaid roses. Cecilia Spurlock, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

MRS. ABBOTT SPURLOCK

During the service Mrs. J. M. Jones rendered her usual aid at the reception, which followed, she also presided over a number of selections. The room in which the ceremony took place was artistically decorated, a frieze of pepper bouquets and white roses and curtains being placed about the room, and the hall panelled and planted plants, together with roses were effectively arrayed, and in the dining-room, where refreshments were served, scarlet was used. Over the lights scarlet tulle was festooned, and about the room paper flowers were placed here and there. In the center of the table a basket filled with scarlet carnations was a pleasing addition. Both young people are well known and popular in Los Angeles. Immediately after the wedding they left for a honeymoon to parts unknown. After September 1 they are at home at No. 2108 West Twenty-second street. Particularly interesting is the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Spurlock are planning to build a bungalow cottage right next door to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simmonds, who were recently married. Mrs. Simmonds was Miss Maude Phelps, and she and Mrs. Spurlock have been dear friends ever since they were wee little girls, and have grown up together, and now are planning happily to live next to each other the rest of their lives.

Orpheum Box Party.

Mr. Ridgway entertained a number of friends at the Orpheum Monday evening with a box party, and ham and supper was served at a downtown cafe. Guests were ex-Senator and Mrs. Stephen W. Dorsey, Mrs. James Keats of Little Rock, Ark., Miss Evelyn Prewitt and Mr. Whitney.

Garden Party.

The garden party which was given yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. C. A. Moody of Avenue 41 acting as hostess, was particularly interesting, owing to the aggregation of literary and distinguished people who gathered beneath the shade of the great old sycamores. Mr. Morris joined the party next week for a three weeks' visit in San Francisco with her brother-in-law and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Robert O. Moody, and the affair was in the nature of a little farewell to a number of her friends. Tea was served on the lawn, and although the affair was charming, among other distinguished visitors was Dr. Stewart Culff, who is curator of the Brooklyn Museum, and who is at present the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Adams. He is on his way from Zulfi, where he has been collecting curios for the museum, and from here expects to go to Mexico. Among other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lummi, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Lummis, Dr. and Mrs. Robert O. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Burroughs, Mrs. Ida Meacham Strobridge, Miss Cyndy, Miss Laura Lummi, Miss Alice Whitman, Miss Gertrude Drift, Arthur Farwell and Dr. Norman Bridge.

Engagement Announced.

In the Berkeley papers appears the announcement of the engagement of Miss Florence B. Hatch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hatch, formerly of this city, to Mr. B. Clapp of Elkhorn, Neb. Miss Hatch is a graduate of the summer class of '92 of the Los Angeles High School, and is popular among a wide circle of friends, both here and in Berkeley, at which place the wedding will take place on October 1.

Luncheon at Long Beach.

Mrs. E. H. Barnard of Burlington avenue, one of the prominent club-women of the city, is summering at Long Beach, and on Friday will entertain a number of Los Angeles women at luncheon at her residence at No. 227 Ocean avenue, in the seaside city. Her guests will include Mrs. Matthew Robertson, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Stanton and Mrs. Armstrong.

Japanese Tea.

One of the most delightful of summer functions was the Japanese tea given in honor of Miss Edna Mae Hall and Miss Luella Davis, two of Los Angeles' sweet singers, with Mrs. Adolph Paul Prout of South Hollywood and a number of others. The room was gay with swinging Japanese lanterns, and jasmine was festooned here and there in delightful sprays. The hostess and her two guests of honor were in Japanese costume represented by "Little Mado," from "Madame Mikado." Mrs. Prout gave a singing selection from the "Geisha." Mrs. Hall gave the "Japanese song." Miss Davis sang "Star Song." Since the arrival of young girls South Hollywood had lively, and there have been a number of pretty parties in their homes.

Luncheon Guests.

Mrs. J. A. Walls had as her guests yesterday at luncheon the directors of the Ruskin Art Club of Los Angeles. The luncheon was given at Mrs. Walls' summer home at Ocean Park, and those present were Mrs. W. H. Heath, J. W. Hendricks, N. P. Conroy, N. Mc-
